

alto

Alto and other products. Year in review

December 28, 2024 · read online

---

Hi everyone.

Anton here.

I thought I'd share some numbers with you. Some of you enjoy those updates. It's a very similar email I've sent to Montaigne's customers. But it does have updates numbers(few things changes in the past 2 weeks).

montaigne.io <https://montaigne.io/> - 3700+ users and 4K sites creates since the launch in 2022. To this day I think it's still my most popular project. It also has highest number of paying customers(thank you!). But unfortunately I still failed to make it break even in 2024. It brings a bit of money, but less than my expenses running it.

alto.daily <https://apps.apple.com/us/app/alto-daily/id6478018751?mt=12> - iOS app to track habits backed by Apple Reminders. I only launched it in August 2024 and 1800 people installed it(way less active users, but those are harder to measure). I'm happy with this one - since really it was my first iOS app! 13 people donated to support development and it brought $55(pre Apple Tax).

alto.computer <https://apps.apple.com/us/app/alto-computer/id6480425094?mt=12> - macOS utility app for Apple Notes. 1300 people installed it since I released in in April 2024. 15 people donated and 26 people purchased Apple Notes Exporter add-on.

alto.mail <https://apps.apple.com/us/app/alto-mail/id6717600529?mt=12> - macOS plugin for Apple Mail. 259 installed it since the release in Sept 2024.

alto.start <https://apps.apple.com/us/app/alto-start/id6738673683?mt=12> - Safari new tab plugin that shows your Apple Reminders every time you open new tab. Released few weeks ago. 74 people installed it.

public.me <https://public.me/> - blogging tool backed by iMessage. Released 1.5 months ago. 524 users registered. 4843 messages sent. Also got two important donations that helped a lot(thank you)!

There were few more apps that I published(they have no more than 300 downloads so far). Plus I relaunched <https://recuremail.com/> with a new name and more protections from spammers.

Anyway, thank you for trying and using my products. It means a lot to me. Even if you did use them in the past and stopped.

If you love some of those projects and would like to see more from me - write to me.

Happy holidays,

Anton